Jordan Rivera

San Diego, CA | (555) 010-2468 | jordan.rivera@example.com | linkedin.com/in/jordan-rivera-example | Portfolio

SUMMARY

Urban studies graduate with hands-on experience in site feasibility, pro forma modeling, and entitlement research. Bilingual (English/Spanish) and comfortable working between investors, architects, and city staff.

EXPERIENCE

Harbor & Pine Development (fictional) San Diego, CA
Development Analyst Intern Jun 2025 – Sep 2025

- Built a 10-year pro forma for a 120-unit multifamily project, testing rent and cap-rate scenarios for the investment committee
- Screened 40+ infill parcels for zoning capacity and density-bonus eligibility, narrowing to 5 sites for LOIs
- Summarized weekly construction draws and budget variances for the project manager
- Pulled rent comps from listing data to support underwriting assumptions

City of Bayview Planning Dept. (fictional) Bayview, CA
Planning Intern Sep 2024 – May 2025

- Mapped 3,000+ permit records in ArcGIS Pro to track housing production against state targets
- Automated a monthly permit report with Python, cutting prep time from 6 hours to 30 minutes

PROJECTS

Transit-Oriented Site Suitability Model github.com/example/tod-suitability Oct 2025 – Dec 2025

- Weighted-overlay model ranking parcels by transit access, zoning, and land value
- Identified 18 high-potential parcels within a half mile of light rail

EDUCATION

State University (fictional) San Diego, CA
B.A. Urban Studies, Minor in Economics Aug 2023 – May 2026

- GPA: 3.8 / 4.0, Distinction in the Major
- Relevant coursework: Real Estate Finance, Urban Economics, GIS, Land Use Law

SKILLS

Real estate: Underwriting, Site feasibility, Zoning analysis, Market research
Technical: Excel (pro forma, DCF), ArcGIS Pro, Python, SQL, Tableau
Languages: English (native), Spanish (fluent)

CERTIFICATIONS

Real Estate Financial Modeling Certificate, Example Training Institute Mar 2026